

Tuesday 10th October 2006

8:30 – 9:00			Registration and coffee
9:00 - 9:05	Eric Peacock Chair for the day and John Jeffcock CEO, Winmark	Welcome Lecturer, entrepreneur and philanthropist Eric Peacock and John Jeffcock will introduce the day.
9:05 - 9:30	John Williams Charity Commissioner, UK Charity Commission	The State of UK Charity: An Overview John Williams will introduce a macro-level view of the state of charity in the UK and the main trends within the charity industry.
9:30 -10:00	Professor Paul Palmer and Professor Jenny Harrow Cass Business School	The Corporate as Rockstar? Paul Palmer and Jenny Harrow will present their findings on recent trends in the motivations of corporate giving, taken from their corporate review of the Sri Lankan Tsunami disaster.
10:00 - 10:30	Mark Evans Head of Family Business and Philanthropy, Courtts & Co and Matthew Bowcock Entrepreneur and Trustee of the Community Foundation Network	The importance of making philanthropy fun Mark Evans and Matthew Bowcock will talk about how enjoying what you are doing is just as important as knowing what you are doing.
10:30 - 11:00			Coffee and messages
11:00 -11:40	Alison Cole Director of Communications, npower and Peter Cardy Chief Executive, Macmillan	npower & Macmillan Case Study Alison Cole and Peter Cardy will present a case study on their and other relationships. In storytelling format, top tips will be shared.
11:40 – 12:20 Breakout session	- White Space 2 - Haoming Huang CEO, Chinese Association of NGOs Bringing China To You Haoming Huang will discuss the state of the Chinese charity market and how corporates can work with charities in China to help enter the Chinese market.	- White Space 1 - Nigel Harris CEO, New Philanthropy Capital and James Blackburn Chair, Execution Charitable Trust Entrepreneurial philanthropy James Blackburn will explore how philanthropy reinforces the mission and culture of Execution, an institutional stockbroking firm.
	- White Space 2 - Ruth Seymour, Clare Dobie and Mark Pullen Pilotlight Skills Giving Ruth Seymour will explain how business leaders' skills can be matched and managed into small innovative charities.	- White Space 1 - Professor Sir Andrew Likierman London Business School Making CSR Count Sir Andrew will address questions about what is being achieved in CSR, including performance evaluation and the importance of reputation management.
13:00 - 14:10			Lunch – Access to the Dali Universe will be free for all attendees. Please do take a stroll around the collection.
14:10-14.20	Sir Richard Butler Pestalozzi World Foundation	A Philanthropist and His Charity Sir Richard will introduce the Pestalozzi Foundation and how the money raised by this event will be used.
14:20 - 15:20	Charles Handy Social Business Philosopher and Writer	The New Philanthropists Charles Handy will describe some of the 23 Entrepreneurial philanthropists featured in his new book, discussing how they did it and why, as well as the lessons that can be drawn from their example.
	John Studzinski Philanthropist	A New Philanthropist Profile John Studzinski was elected the most generous businessman in the UK. This eponymous corporate philanthropist tells his story.
15:20 - 15:40			Coffee and messages
15:40 - 16:10	Jennifer Chambers Partner of Private Client Services, Allen & Overy	The Nuts and Bolts: Making it Work Jennifer Chambers will highlight some of the legal, tax and international issues which arise around corporate giving.
16:10 - 16:40	Nigel Morris (Founder of Capital One) Trustee, New Philanthropy Capital	Giving More Effectively Nigel Morris will talk about how to coordinate philanthropic giving, how to make it more effective and how to ensure a return.
16:40 - 17:10	Panel Discussion	The panelists will take questions from the audience and discuss. Panelists include Nigel Morris and Eric Peacock.			